DEPENDING ON THE OCCASION

How the room is built.

Interactive stage act

Mind-reading, illusion and comedy for a room that would rather take part than sit still.

Bespoke and brand-customised acts

Built around your people, your product and the line you actually want remembered.

Grand illusions and appearances

The entrance, the reveal, the moment the room is not sure what it just saw.

A completely customised concept can be explored.

01

Book a performance

The room is in the show.

02

Commission an illusion

A film, a play, or an entrance.

03

Book a workshop

They learn it. Then they perform it.

BEHIND THE CAMERA

Illusion design

01

Movie promotions

Illusions designed for a film launch: a stunt, an appearance, a picture that travels further than the poster.

02

Grand entries

How a chief guest, a CEO, a product or a couple arrives. Designed, rehearsed, then performed.

03

Theatre productions

Illusion consulting for the stage: effects that belong to the show, not pasted on top of it.

WORKSHOPS

Team building, taught with magic.

People learn a piece of magic, then perform it. A corporate workshop, not a show the room only watches. The trick is the exercise: how a team works together, what stress does when the hands have to stay steady, and how to manage it. Useful on an offsite, a leadership meet, or any day the brief is the people, not the stage.

ABOUT

Mumbai. The Circle. The room.

Mumbai-based. Member of The Magic Circle, London. Every act is tailored to the room.

The corporate show stays boardroom-safe. The workshops are a different booking: people learn magic and perform it. The illusion work — films, entries, theatre — is a separate craft, and so is the teaching.

Questions people ask first

Who is Magic Mangesh?

A Mumbai-based comedy mentalist and illusionist, and a member of The Magic Circle, London. He performs for corporate events and designs illusions for films, theatre and grand entries. He has taught Amitabh Bachchan, Akshay Kumar and his son, Hrithik Roshan and his kids, Bharat Dabholkar, Shreyas Talpade, Ninad Kamat and others.

What is a corporate show with him actually like?

Mind-reading, mentalism, illusion and comedy, shaped for the occasion. Guests do not simply watch. They become part of the show.

Is the corporate show boardroom-safe?

Yes. It is 100% interactive, 100% entertaining and 100% boardroom-safe. The adult show, aBraKaDaBra, is a separate booking and is not part of the corporate set.

Does he perform only in Mumbai?

He is based in Mumbai and has performed worldwide for more than 22 years. Travel is part of the booking, not a limit on it.

Can a show be built around a brand or a product?

Yes. Bespoke acts are written for the company, the launch or the message. A completely customised concept can be explored if the brief is unusual.

What is the difference between performing and designing an illusion?

Performing is the show your guests see. Designing is the work behind a film promotion, a grand entry or a theatre production: the illusion is built for someone else to inhabit, or for a single moment on a stage.

Does he run workshops, not only shows?

Yes. Corporate training covers team building and stress management, taught through magic. Participants learn a trick and then perform it. The point is how a team works under a little pressure, and how to manage that stress. It is separate from the stage show.

Who has he taught?

He has taught Amitabh Bachchan, Akshay Kumar and his son, Hrithik Roshan and his kids, Bharat Dabholkar, Shreyas Talpade, Ninad Kamat and others. He is known as Bollywood's favourite magic trainer.
